DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: "control panel 66", "controls 66a" and "display 66b". Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
- The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
3. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In Claim 1, line 5, the phrase "an aesthetic member, attached at a perimeter of said aesthetic member, to the..." may be viewed as being unclear and confusing as presently worded. In Claim 1, line 5, the phrase "the rear side" does not have a proper antecedent basis. Consequently, the remaining claims are rejected because they are dependent upon an indefinite claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Applicant's Prior Art Admission of Figures 1-4 [known hereafter as APAA]. APAA teaches of a cabinet cover for a home appliance comprising: a cabinet cover body (12) having an installation hole (12a) at a predetermined location for receiving at a rear side of the installation hole a control panel (26) for controlling the home appliance; and an aesthetic member (14), attached at a perimeter thereof to a rear side of the cabinet cover body, for closing the installation hole, wherein the aesthetic member is attached by an adhesive agent (such as (B)) and wherein the perimeter [perimeter being interpreted as "the outer limits of an area" – Webster's II New Riverside University Dictionary 1994] of the aesthetic member is welded (such as (C) – on the left side as depicted in fig. 3) to the rear side (as depicted in fig. 3, the position is taken that the welded portion on (12) would constitute a "rear side" of the element as opposed to a "front side" since the aesthetic member is secured to the "rear side" and not the "front side") of the cabinet cover body (the position is taken that the perimeter of the member as defined by the installation hole i.e., the hole defines an area which is bounded by a perimeter of the member), wherein the aesthetic member is larger than the installation hole, wherein the cabinet cover body and the aesthetic member are made of a stainless steel based material (as evident by the cross-hatched sections), wherein the body and member may be manufactured using an array of cutting devices devices as is conventionally known in the art, and wherein the aesthetic member is provided with a plurality of holes (fig. 4 for example) for receiving the control panel. As to claim 4, the method of forming the device is not germane to the issue of patentability of the device itself. Therefore, this limitation has not been given patentable weight.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Snider describes conventional methods of attaching a member to a device.
